TOUCHING WAS HER FAREWELL

Miss Muir, Who Leaves For China
Tomorrow—Spoke to Her
Many Friends.

SAID SHE WAS VERY HAPPY

Told How She First Felt Inspired and Called to Take Up the Work.

"I wish everybody could feel as happy as I do tonight," said Miss Winifred Muir, "for when I land in China, the dream of seven years will be realized."

It was most imposing and touching, the scene at St. Paul's M. E.
church last night when a congregation bid farewell and Godspeed to one of the members who will leave for China tomorrow where she will remain five years doing missionary work. And the prayers and best wishes of the community go with her.

Dr. Tevis condensed a good sermon into a few minutes last night when it occurred to him that one of his flock—and a most faithful member—was in attendance at the service, the last one she would attend for several years. The pastor stated that he thought it appropriate that the young lady make a few remarks by way of farewell to those who loved her and who were interested in her future work. After a prayer, led by Edwin Farrer, in which the Divine blessing was invoked for the success of the young lady, Miss Muir stepped forward to the pulpit, and with much emotion told the story of how she decided on the career she was starting on and how she truly felt that she was called by God to enter the field and take up the identical work in which she would soon be identified.

"It was just seven years ago,"
said Miss Muir, "that I first felt inspired to go into the missionary field.
It was in the room in the rear of this edifice at an Epworth League meeting. The speaker was a young man and he spoke along the line of individual effort and what we all owed as individuals to the great cause. I decided right then and there to be a missionary. However, I kept the secret to myself for two years, when I confided in a sister. I was persuaded to give up the idea at that time on account of illness in our family, but I never lost sight of that dream. At Bloomington, when I attended the State University, by some unknown,
but possibly divine act, I was thrown in contact with a young lady who felt a similar call. One day she turned to me saying, 'What do you say, let's go away and be missionaries?' Then it was, with joy in my heart, that I told her it was my fondest hope and ambition. We went to see the State secretary the following day, and so enthusiastic were we that we aroused her before daylight and signed application blanks to go to a foreign field of endeavor."

Miss Muir will have to travel 13-500 miles to reach her destination, and the place is 600 miles inland.
She spoke cheerfully throughout and while many of her friends and members of the family were in tears, the new candidate for the missionary field had a smile playing on her countenance, and seemed to be about the happiest person in the church.

Dr. Tevis said it was worth a whole lot to a church to be able to say they had one of their members in a foreign field and that the young lady was making a sacrifice worth more than a million dollars. He said he hoped she would have a safe return to this country five years hence, but if she did not, heaven was just as near the shores of China as home.
The divine said he would take it upon himself to invite the congregation to come forward and grasp the hand of Miss Muir and leave in her hand a small amount of money for she had a long journey ahead of her. Acting upon this suggestion, the members of the church eagerly pressed forward,

but she could not hold in her hands
the generous donations, for a veritable shower of silver—and some few bills—were thrust into her hands and a receptacle nearby. Among the last who came forward were a number of Miss Muir's intimate lady friends and chums, and all of them kissed her a fond farewell.

FARMERS TO HAVE INSTITUTE WEEK

Series of Meetings Will be Held Throughout Rush County in February.

WOMEN ARE INTERESTED

Rush county farmers are to have one continuous week of institutes,
commencing at Carthage on Monday,
February 15, and will be continued
throughout the week at the following places: Manilla, February 16; Milroy, February 17; Arlington, February 18, ending at Rushville, February 19 and 20.

The women are making a special effort to have their part interesting and attractive.

GOVERNOR HARMON QUITS THE C. H. & D.

Resigned His Position of Receiver
And is Succeeded by His Law Partner.

MADE AN EXCELLENT OFFICIAL

In order that there may be no
"strings" tied to him now that he is Governor of Ohio, Judson A. Harmon announced that he would give up the receivership of the Cincinnati,
Hamilton & Dayton railroad Saturday.

His successor, it is semi-officially stated, will be Edward Colston of the firm of Harmon & Colston, Goldsmith & Hoadly, the governor-elect's law partner.

Ever since he was given the majority vote of the citizens of the Buckeye State, Mr. Harmon says he has been considering his resignation
from the railroad receivership.

He has debated the question with himself for weeks and finally reached the conclusion that his chances of making a good governor will be enhanced by the fact that he has severed his connection with the corporation in which J. Pierpont Morgan and other Eastern capitalists are said to be heavily interested.

THEY CAPTURED THE GHOST

Proved to be Two Boys Having a Hilarious Time.

The ghost story from Raysville
suffered the usual fate of ghost stories in general. The ghost was captured. In this case it proved to be two boys who had taken possession of the old house. With different appliances they were having the time of their lives at the expense of the people of that community.

THE WEATHER.

Cold wave, temperature falling twenty-five to forty degrees by Tuesday evening.

WILL ORGANIZE FOR CAMPAIGN

Meeting Will be Held Tomorrow by the Promoters of the County Option.

MINISTERS WILL BE THERE

And Committees From the Various Churches Will be Appointed
For the Cause.

An organization to carry on the work of calling for a special election under the county option law, will be perfected Tuesday afternoon at a special meeting to be held for that purpose. All the ministers have been invited to attend and a committee from each church will be appointed to carry on the general work of the movement. In most of the churches yesterday, petitions were provided for those who cared to sign them.
Quite a few volunteers at the close of the services and many signatures were secured.

Eight petitions are now being circulated in the outer townships, where it is understood the voters are signing without hesitation. One of the men interested in the cause here said that the required number of names would be on the petitions, and many to spare, by February first when they will be properly filed before the county commissioners. In A. L. Gary's law office, where a petition is framed,
over fifty have volunteered and went to his office to sign of their own volition without solicitation.

EVERYBODY HAPPY BUT WILL A. JONES

Old Sleigh Has Been Converted Into Incubator and the Bells are Hushed.

"THE BEAUTIFUL" IS AMONG US

It snows cries the school boy—
and everybody else—wild with delight and tickled to death. Among the happiest people were the farmers
for the snow will make them dollars and dollars. W. A. Jones, the veteran horseman, was the worst disappointed man in town. For years he has always been the first to go sleigh riding, but this year he had to forego that pleasure and break the precedent for his old sleigh has been made over into a chicken incubator.

WILL GO TO FLORIDA.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Cullen, Mr.
and Mrs. Samuel L. Innis and the Misses Frances Sexton and Frances Frazee will leave Friday to spend the winter in Florida at a "summer
weather resort."

SOCIETY NEWS

Greensburg Review: Elmer Smith
of Milroy and Miss Lizzie Brockel-mier of Sandusky, were united in marriage today at 10 o'clock by Rev.
Henry Morrow at his home, and the connubial knot was tied with all the impressiveness that should charac-terize such ceremonies. The young people will go to housekeeping at Sandusky.

The Naomi Circle will meet with

RUSHVILLE MAN IN HIGH OFFICE

Hon Frank J. Hall One of the Principals in the Imposing Ceremony Today.

TAKES THE OATH OF OFFICE

Rush County Highly Honored in Claiming Present Lieutenant Governor of Indiana.

Standing facing the double doors of the office that will be his for the next four years, Thomas R. Marshall at noon today took the oath of office
—"to support the constitution of the United States and the State of Indiana and faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of the office of Governor of the State of Indiana"—
and delivered to the Indiana General Assembly his first message, outlining the policies he expects to pursue and the legislation he deems desirable.

The members of the Legislature, to whom especially he addressed the latter part of his speech, accompanied many of them, by their wives, filled 300 chairs about the platform on which he stood. On the platform were the retiring Governor, J. Frank Hanly, and Mrs. Hanly; State officers and their wives; members of the State judiciary and their wives, and twelve friends each of Mr. and Mrs. Hanly and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall. A great throng crowded in the south corridor of the State House
and lined the two balconies above.
The corridors had been decorated in the national colors, flags, festoons
and banners; the marble columns were entwined with bunting to the skylight above the third floor, and streamers of laurel and holly stretched about the platform. The setting for the ceremony was beautiful.

At noon the Governor-retiring and the Governor-elect marched down
the steps from the Senate chamber,
where they had witnessed the ceremony inaugurating Lieutenant-Governor Frank J. Hall into office. A half hour before the House and Senate, meeting in joint session, had gone through the form of canvassing
the vote and declaring the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor officially elected. Following Marshall and Hanly as they approached the stand were Lieutenant-Governor Hall and Hugh T. Miller, who had just relinquished the office to his, and following them were the members of the Senate, marching two abreast. At the end of the column of senators came the Representatives, headed by Thomas M. Honan, Speaker. A military band, placed on the second balcony, played while the legislators were arriving and being seated.

Invocation was pronounced by Dr.
George L. Mackintosh, president of Wabash College. J. Frank Hanly,
the out-going executive, spoke briefly a farewell message, ending by introducing Governor Marshall.

ATTENDED INAUGURATION

Number of People From This City
Present During the Ceremony
Today.

A number of people from this city attended the inaugural ceremonies in Indianapolis today, among whom

AUTHOR AND ARTIST'S WORK

Cleverly Made Calendars were Received as Christmas Gifts.

The Shelbyville Liberal says: Mr.
Chris Steinhauer is in receipt of a beautiful art calendar from Carl Williams, who is employed at the head of the art department of the Cincinnati Enquirer. The calendar is a product of Mr. Williams' well-known talent in handling pen and ink.
The cover page of parchment, contains a poem "The Ballad of the Years," written by Charles V. Tevis and illustrated by Mr. Williams, the printing and sketching all being done in ink. Wallace Morgan and Tom J. Geraghty of this city received similar calendars as Christmas gifts
from the author and artist.

FARMERS CHASING BEAR NEAR MOSCOW

Thought to Have Escaped From a Roving Band of Gypsies Near That Place.

STORY CAUSES REIGN OF FEAR

Late Friday evening, says the Greensburg News, our attention was called to the fact that a large bear had been discovered running at large almost in our midst. He was first discovered in the vicinity of Moscow, early Friday morning. Farmers formed groups and attempted to capture the animal. The monster was last seen on the Metzler farm, near Sandusky and was rapidly "bearing" toward Greensburg.
Meanwhile the pigs, lambs and calves of this vicinity are hugging their "mamas" in deadly terror of the approaching peril. It must not be gathered from our seeming levity that this is a "pipe dream." The above intelligence has been imparted to us substantially as printed, and the bear is supposed to have escaped from some roving band of gypsies.

FIRE DEPARTMENT MADE A STILL RUN

To the Home of Dr. P. H. Chadwick
in North Morgan Street This Morning.

BLAZE SOON EXTINGUISHED

The city fire department made a still run early this morning to the home of Dr. P. H. Chadwick in North Morgan street. Very little damage was done as the blaze had been extinguished before the department reached the home.

It seems that one of the children in the Chadwick home opened the door to the stove in one of the rooms
on the lower floor and the blaze shot out and set some lace curtains on fire. The alarm was immediately telephoned in, but with the assistance of the neighbors the small blaze was extinguished before the hose wagon
reached the home.

The members of the city fire department would much prefer to have an alarm turned in even though a telephone message is sent, because no member of the department will be aware of fire if the bell does not ring.
Only two men are retained at the department building and cannot make much headway without the assistance of the other members.

PROTECTION FOR STATE AUTOISTS

Railroad Commission Would Force
Driver to Stop at Railway Crossings.

GETTING VERY NUMEROUS

Are Accidents and Legislature Will be Asked to Take Some Action
at Once.

Among the points the Indiana
State Railroad Commission will seek to have covered by legislation is the protection of the reckless automobile driver against his own recklessness.
The commission is appalled at the number of grade accidents in which occupants of automobiles are either killed or injured by being struck by railway trains. The members have investigated accident after accident of this class and have finally resolved to ask the legislature to enact a measure making it a penalty for a driver of an automobile to run over a grade crossing without first stopping to ascertain if a locomotive is approaching.

Most of the accidents called to the attention of the commission have occurred in the northern part of the State. The preponderance of the evidence in these cases indicate that the occupants of the automobile suffered from reckless drivers and if there is any way by which these reckless drivers may be held in check,
the commission will seek to find it
under the law which is proposed.

The measure will be a part of the law the commission is seeking to have entered for protection against preventable railway accidents. The bill to be submitted will provide against accidents on grade crossings
and rights of way by giving the railroads more power to keep the tracks
and crossings free of trespassers.

DID NOT LIKE TO PART WITH HOME

Marshall Benedict Had Warm Spot
in His Heart for His Little Cottage

WHERE HE LIVED WITH AUNT

Discussions of the Benedict suicide sensation has brought out that Benedict had his heart set on the little home in which he had spent many years of his life and where his aged aunt now lives, says the Con-nersville Courier.

It is said that Benedict probably feared that his shortage with the township would result in the loss of this home and the worry over the prospects probably had as much to do with the suicide motive as anything else.

Mrs. Rachel Benedict, upon whom the shock of the tragedy must fall heaviest, is eighty-three years old and the little home is about all there is left to her. For several years the home was encumbered, but the report now is that these encumbrances have been removed by the statute of limitation. If this be true, Mrs. Benedict will not be deprived of the home.

AIR PROBLEMS TAX AERONAUTS

Modern Flyers Get Together
to Talk Things Over.

QUESTIONS OF THE FUTURE

Among the Problems to Be Discussed by International Aeronautic Federation Which Assembled in London Today Is the Question of the Right of Way Through the Air—Regrets Expressed That No American Is Attending the Conference—Aviation Is the Engrossing Theme in Europe.

London, Jan. 11.—Of immense interest to all who are watching the progress made in flying by human beings is the meeting of the International Aeronautic federation, which began here today. Delegates from every European country in which aviation is a subject of daily news interest have assembled here to discuss some of the important questions that have arisen in regard to the sport, or science, as its ardent followers prefer to term it.

In view of the prominence of the Wright brothers and other Americans in this field, regrets are expressed that no American is attending the conference. The United States has, however, a representative in the person of Roger William Wallace, the Englishman selected by the Aero Club of America to look after its interests.

To Decide Winner of Race.

Probably the question of greatest popular interest to be decided at the federation's meetings is the determination of the winner of the international balloon race, which started from Berlin Oct. 10. The greatest distance was covered by Schack, in the Swiss balloon Helvetia, but he violated the rules of the contest by landing at sea on the deck of a steamer. The rules declared that landings must be made on terra firma, and the awarding of the prize to Schack has been protested by the English club.

Another matter to be taken up is the attempted control of aviation by automobile clubs, which claim the right to supervise flying contests in which the motor is a factor. Flying machines with motors include "heavier than air" machines and dirigible balloons, and the aeronautic clubs declare that the upholding of the automobile clubs' contentions will leave to them only gas bags without motors.

The new question of the right of way through the air will also come before the federation. Until very recently this has been regarded by everybody as a matter for jesting, but delegates to the convention, secure in their belief in the future of flying, declare that the time has come for taking it up in earnest.

AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Changes in Management, Caused by the Death of Major Orlando J. Smith.

New York, Jan. 11.—The directors of the American Press Association announced today the election of the following officers to fill the vacancies caused by the death of Major Orlando J. Smith, the founder and former president and general manager of the association: Hon. Jesse Holdom, president; Courtland Smith, vice president and general manager; William G. Brogan, assistant general manager; Albert Bernet, auditor.

Courtland Smith has been the acting general manager for the past year. William G. Brogan has been the acting assistant general manager for the same period. Mr. Bernet is manager of the Columbus office. Wayne B. Stowe and Maurice F. Germond remain as secretary and treasurer respectively. William G. Brogan was elected to the vacancy in the board of directors.

CURLERS GET TOGETHER

Great Bonspiel Was Begun at St. Paul Today.

St. Paul, Jan. 11.—The bonspiel of the Northwestern Curling association, which will begin here today and continue all week, will be the largest bonspiel ever held by that association.

The greatest array of players of the ancient Scotch game of curling that ever gathered together outside of a few of the Canadian bonspiels, both in point of number and playing ability, will be seen here during the spiel. Gold medals, gold watches and other valuable prizes will be awarded to the successful wielders of the "besom and stane."

Situation at Messina.

Messina, Jan. 11.—Balmly weather has prevailed for the past two or three days at this place, and it is a great blessing, making it possible for the troops and survivors of the earthquake to live more or less comfortably in the open. Occasionally there are earth-shocks, but the people have become accustomed to them. General Mazza, who is in supreme command, has adopted stringent measures in order to protect the people and the people's property.

INAUGURATION TODAY BLOCKED

Program at Illinois State Capital Given a Setback.

MAY DELAY IT ANOTHER WEEK

Political Observers at Springfield See No Present Way Out of the Deadlock Which Threatens to Tie Up Indefinitely the Proceedings of the Legislature—Perfunctory Session Was Held Today, but No Business Will Be Attempted Until Tomorrow.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 11.—With a deadlock of the legislature, the upper branch fully organized to transact business, and the lower barred under the present interpretation of the law from proceeding in its regular routine, the possibilities for the week in Springfield are many. Perfunctory sessions of both houses are being held this afternoon, but the real business sessions will not convene until tomorrow, when both houses will meet and the struggle for a joint session will recommence. The proximate cause of the deadlock is the refusal of the senate to enter a joint session with the house to canvass the votes cast for state officers at the November election, but behind this cause is a suspicion well grounded in the minds of the friends of Governor Deneen that such a joint session would have been the prelude to the beginning of a contest over the governorship, which might put his opponents in a position to oust him from the gubernatorial seat.

Coincident with the convening of the two branches of the legislature at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, there is scheduled a meeting of the Republican state central committee in the rooms of the railroad and warehouse commission in the state house. It is the belief of the administration's friends that the members of the central committee will make strong efforts to convince the Republican legislators who refused to enter the caucus and supported Speaker Shurtliff that the party organization is threatened unless they recede from their position. Meanwhile the talk of an agreement by which it would be possible to secure a joint session which would be confined to a canvass of the votes, continues, and some politicians see hope of reaching an understanding between the opposing factions which would guarantee a recount program satisfactory to the administration and also to the friends of Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor. The Democratic minority, headed by its leader, Representative Lee O'Neill Browne of Ottawa, has announced that it will contest the election.

It is understood that the friends of the governor have done all they could to strengthen his position in the senate, and there is a strong belief that the deadlock will continue at least until the administration forces have exhausted every avenue which might bring assistance to them.

Some of the more optimistic legislators and politicians see hope that the inauguration ceremonies, which properly would have taken place today, will be held this week, but the greater number see no chance for an inauguration for another week, if then.

Possible action by county central committees, particularly in the districts represented by Republicans who supported Speaker Shurtliff, was commented upon through the day. The senatorial battle, on which depends the toga of Senator Albert J. Hopkins, is one of the angles of the entanglement which caused much comment. The possibility of a coalition between the Democratic minority and the Shurtliff men, which would result in the elevation of Speaker Shurtliff to Senator Hopkins's seat in the senate, is considered by many to be one of the integral factors which has blocked the wheels of legislation in the state capital.

CRUSHED BENEATH CHURCH

Ancient Swiss Edifice Collapses, Killing Forty or More Worshippers.

Berne, Switzerland, Jan. 11.—During divine service Sunday an ancient church near Sion suddenly collapsed, burying the worshippers in the ruins. Practically all the members of the congregation were killed or injured. The fire company of the place extricated forty corpses, but it is believed that there are still a number under the timbers. Sixty persons were badly injured. The collapse of the church was caused by the time-worn pillars in the underground crypt giving way.

Night Riders Taken to Jackson.

Jackson, Tenn., Jan. 11.—The six night riders sentenced to death at Union City and two others sentenced to twenty years in the state penitentiary have been placed in jail here and will be held in close confinement to await the action of the state supreme court, which will meet in this city next April.

The charred body of the wife of Martin Ricks, a lumber buyer at Marion, Ind., in the ruins of a barn which had evidently been fired by an incendiary, has created suspicion of a sensational murder at that place.

ECZEMA CURED

Dr. Taylor Remedy Co.
Philadelphia, Pa.
Gentlemen—For nearly twenty years I have suffered from Eczema, which assured the appearance of dry white scales which covered my whole body. At the time the itching and burning was unbearable. In the morning I could gather up the scales in handfuls from the bed. I have tried every remedy I ever heard about. Doctors could not help me. Two months ago I commenced using Dr. Taylor's Remedy, and today I am practically cured.
Yours truly,

A BRILLIANT SHAM.

Paris Under the Rule of the Third Napoleon.

Never was there so pleasure loving and so easy going a court, and seldom has there been one which was externally so splendid. The emperor spent money like water and thereby produced a prosperity for the time and with it popularity for the government. Hundreds of millions were lavished upon Paris, much of it being wasted, yet none the less with the result that the city really deserved its title la ville lumiere. In these days it has gone to seed and grown shabby, but in 1869 everything seemed fresh and new and brilliant and imposing. The army was rotten to the core. Yet the emperor's cent gardes were splendid soldiers to the eye. Society was no less demoralized, yet its gaiety was exhilarating. These were the days when it was said that good Americans when they die go to Paris. The emperor conferred distinction by recognizing any foreigner. The empress set the fashions for the world. It was all a sham, but it was thoroughly magnificent in its way. It can best be understood at present by reading Zola's early novels, by recalling some chapters of Daudet's "Le Nabab" and by remembering Jacques Offenbach, whose opera bouffe was the most characteristic production of an empire which itself was bouffe. That shallow and yet catchy music was a tonal sneer. Every libretto was a mock at the old time virtues of chastity and honor and courage.—Harry Thurston Peck in Bookman.

BELLINI'S BEST OPERA.

"Norma" Was Hissed at First—The Composer's Death.

Bellini was born in Sicily. He died at Puteaux, near Paris, under somewhat strange circumstances. In 1835, Baron Armand d'Aquino wrote to a friend: "I rode out to call on him; but, as usual, the gardener of his house refused to let me in. Later on in the day there was a heavy storm, and at about 5 o'clock I once again tried to see him. As no one answered the bell I pushed against the gate, and it gave way, so I got into the house. I found Bellini on a bed, abandoned by all. At first I thought that he was asleep. When I touched his hand, it was quite cold, for he was dead."

A curious letter is published, written by him when his "Norma" was hissed at the first representation: "I have just returned from the Scala. Would you believe it? 'Norma' was hissed. I no longer recognized the friendly Milanese, who received with enthusiasm and delight the 'Il Pirata,' 'La Straniera,' 'La Sonnambula.' I have deceived myself. I have made a great mistake. All my expectations have been illusions. But, I assure you from my heart, there are morsels in it that I shall be proud if I can ever excel. Did not the Romans hiss 'L'Olympiade' of the divine Pergolesi? In all theatrical productions the public is the supreme judge. The public will reverse its judgment. It will recognize that 'Norma' is the best of my operas."—Argonaut.

Where Parliament Failed.

According to all accounts, the Cameron highlanders militia are a fine body of men physically. Not long ago four of them occupied the least crowded seat in a full compartment on a Scotland railway. Just as the train was moving off a diminutive little clergyman jumped into the compartment and tried to edge himself in between two of the highlanders. Not finding it very comfortable, he turned to the one on his right and said: "Sit up, please. You know that, according to act of parliament, the seat holds five." The highlander looked at him for a moment and then replied: "That may be a' richt enough for your kind, sir, but shairly ye canna' blame me for no bein' constructed according to act of parliament!"

Contagion and Infection.

A contagious disease is one in which the disease producing organism goes direct from the person having the disease to a person who has not the disease without passing through an intermediary medium, as in tuberculosis, for example. Malaria, on the other hand, is an infectious disease, because the organism which produces it is taken from a person by a mosquito, reproduces itself in the mosquito and is transmitted by the mosquito which may never have been in contact with the person by whom the original organism was given off.—New York American.

CONSERVATION PLAN.

President Roosevelt Invites Canada and Mexico to Conference.

TO AID NATURAL RESOURCES.

White House to Be Scene of Meeting In Interests of Continent of North America—Outgrowth of Two National Conferences—Important Mutually Beneficial Results Expected.

Announcement has been made in the White House of a plan for a conference looking toward the conservation of the natural resources of North America, to be held in the White House Feb. 18 next. Letters suggesting the plan have been addressed by President Roosevelt to the governor general and the premier of Canada and to President Diaz of Mexico. They will be delivered to those officials by Gifford Pinchot, chairman of the national conservation commission and chief forester of the United States, whom President Roosevelt has chosen as his personal representative to confer with the authorities of the two governments. Pinchot first will visit Canada. He then will carry the invitation to President Diaz in Mexico City.

The proposed North American conference is the outgrowth of the two conservation conferences held in Washington in which the governors of the United States are showing in the subject grew the idea of a North American conference to consider "mutual interests involved in the conservation of natural resources and to deliberate upon the practicability of preparing a general plan adapted to promote the welfare of the nations concerned."

The representatives designated by the Canadian and Mexican governments will under the plan consult with representatives of the state and other departments of this government and with the national conservation commission. The main object of the conference, as announced, will be to point out that natural resources are not limited by the boundary lines which separate nations, to develop a better knowledge of the natural resources of each nation on the part of the others and to invite suggestions for concurrent action for the protection of mutual interests related to conservation.

The president's letter to Lord Grey, governor general of Canada, is in part as follows:

"It is evident that natural resources are not limited by the boundary lines which separate nations and that the need for conserving them upon this continent is as wide as the area upon which they exist. In view, therefore, of these considerations and of the close bonds of friendship and mutual aims which exist between Canada and the United States I take especial pleasure in inviting you to designate representatives of the government of Canada to meet and consult with representatives of the state and other departments of this government and the national conservation commission in the city of Washington on Feb. 18, 1909. The purpose of the conference I have the honor to propose is to consider mutual interests involved in the conservation of natural resources and in this great field to deliberate upon the practicality of preparing a general plan adapted to promote the welfare of the nations concerned."

"I have this day addressed a similar invitation to the republic of Mexico, expressing my hope that representatives of that government also will be present and participate in the proposed conference of the natural resources of North America."

"The conclusions of such a conference, while wholly advisory in character, could hardly fail to yield important beneficial results both in a better knowledge of the natural resources of each nation on the part of the others and in suggestions for concurrent action for the protection of mutual interests related to conservation."

"As my representative to convey to you this letter and invitation and at my desire to consult with you concerning the proposed conference I have selected an officer of this government, chief of the United States forest service and chairman of the national conservation commission, whom I commend to your kind offices."

Co-operative Fire Fighting Scheme.

Boston and nineteen surrounding cities and towns are to have most effective fire protection. Initial steps were taken during the last week at a meeting of the fire chiefs of the metropolitan district. Under the proposed co-operative plan it will be possible to set in motion, either to the scene of the fire or to cover other districts whose apparatus has moved, 95 engine companies, including horseless engines and fireboats, 125 hose companies, 40 ladder wagons, 28 chemicals, 35 combination chemical wagons, 4 water towers and a big lot of wrecking apparatus, etc., with 5,000 fire fighters. The cost will be trifling compared with the magnitude of the scheme.

ANOTHER MARATHON TO BE RUN TONIGHT

Smallwood and Dorando to Try Conclusions.

St. Louis, Jan. 11.—The acute attack of "marathonitis" from which the Mound City is suffering will come to a head tonight when the starter's pistol sends Percy Smallwood, the Welsh runner, and Dorando Pietri, the famous Italian, off on their long run.

The race will be run in the Coliseum and will be for the full Marathon distance, 26 miles and 385 yards. The track is ten laps to the mile and has been built especially for tonight's race. Both of the runners have met Tom Longboat, the champion professional Marathon runner, Smallwood having beaten him in a ten-mile race in Philadelphia and Dorando having lost one Marathon race to him in New York and another in Buffalo.

INDIANA POLITICS

ROBERT G. TUCKER.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Predictions are being made that a new deal in Democratic state politics will follow the inauguration of Governor Marshall. Already he has indicated that he will not take any of the factional claims seriously. He is not affiliating with either the Taggart or the anti-Taggart elements, so-called. It is said that he has strong hopes of seeing the party reunited so that it will go on winning victories. The understanding now is that he will insist on the practice of rigid economy in the conduct of the state's affairs and that he hopes to bring about a system by which the expenditures may be cut down. Lately the "machine" politicians have begun to wake up to the fact that their chances of handling the state patronage under Governor Marshall have dwindled. It is said that Chairman Stokes Jackson of the state committee received a very rude jolt when he sought appointment as a member of the railroad commission. While Governor Marshall appreciated Chairman Jackson's services, it is said that he has other arrangements regarding the railroad commission and that he doesn't consider it necessary to appoint anyone and everyone connected with the state organization. It is reported that only one appointment will be given to the corps of managers who presided at the Democratic headquarters. Chairman Jackson is now said to be an applicant for a place on the state tax board. Gilbert Hendren of Bloomfield, who was chairman of the speakers' bureau, is an applicant for the same appointment. Secretary Joe Reiley is said to be a candidate for state oil inspector, and Judge Millard Cox, who presided over the press bureau, it is said would like an appointment. The applicants for appointments new form a large brigade, but it is said that none of them will receive much consideration until after the adjournment of the legislature, which promises to absorb most of the governor's time for the next sixty days. None of the party leaders seem to know definitely how they stand with the governor-elect in the matter of distributing patronage, but the impression is growing that while he will be pleased to receive their recommendations, he will not consider himself bound to follow out their plans.

With the finish of the Democratic race for the senate now in sight, John W. Kern, the Indianapolis candidate, seems to be forging to the front again. Unless there is a successful combination formed within the next four days, his chances of winning in the caucus Wednesday night will be better than two to one. Inquiries among all the candidates today brought the replies that no combinations have been formed. Two candidates declared that in their opinion there will be no attempt to combine any of the forces. It is extremely doubtful whether a combination can be made against Kern, B. F. Shively or any other candidate. It is not believed that there is any party leader or senatorial candidate who can deliver more than two or three votes. The indications are that the candidates and their lieutenants have accomplished about all they can and that very little will develop between now and the caucus.

CURRENT COMMENT

The Use of Colleges.

The current notion that the four years a young man passes in college are wasted must soon receive a check if the broad view of the object of college education given in his inaugural address by President H. A. Garfield of Williams is accepted by the country generally. President Garfield declared that the chief end of the American college is to train citizens to citizenship and that therein is an object which should appeal to every student, whatever his life work is to be. He then brought this generalization into definite limits by saying, "A nation will be great and strong whose citizens, bound together by common traditions, inspired by high ideals, march forward with eager and steady tread toward a goal which is ever advancing." The definite aim of colleges, he holds, should be the training of citizens to this national ideal, and he would exclude from college all young men who are not in sympathy with its purpose or unwilling to devote themselves to it.

Much has been said pro and con upon the subject of giving to our education a moral bias. Generally the demand has been for an education which is practical and equips the student for immediate work that shall be remunerative and be a direct sequence of the studies pursued at school. Mr. Garfield's conception at once lifts the problem above the ultra practical plane. To those who are to bear the cost of education this attitude may seem reactionary, a harking back to days when education was fostered for its own sake and not for a direct practical end. The tendency is more and more toward specialization in training schools for the professions as well as for trades, the arts and commerce. Perhaps the true college of the future will make training in the national ideals its specialty.

The Law and the Food.

One of the things to be thankful for is the existence on the statute books of a pure food law. Yet it can be said without grumbling that the thanks will be more general and a hundred per cent more hearty when the pure food materializes upon the table.

Since that law has been in force and prosecutions under it have succeeded a cargo of cheese boxes made and labeled abroad were duly entered here and delivered to the importers, presumably to be filled with an imitation foreign cheese. Even if filled with cheese "just as good" as the imported business is an imposition because the consumers of this country will be glad to know always that the pure food law means for them just what it is meant to mean. Instead there is still a latent distrust of the contents of food packages. They are often found to be just the same as before the law was enacted and not what the label and the price call for. The law may be used to whitewash damaged reputations, but the law alone will not improve the goods. It must be enforced.

A Lincoln Memorial at Washington.

The idea of building at the public expense a road from Washington to Gettysburg and naming it for Lincoln seems not to be entertained with any enthusiasm throughout the country. The scheme is a colossal one, and the utility of such a road, even for memorial purposes, has been questioned. Washington, however, seems to be the point to which all thought turns as the fitting place to preserve the memory of Lincoln.

A companion obelisk to that erected to Washington and situated near it has been suggested. But the capital is undergoing a transformation, and it would be difficult at present to determine what will in future years be the most conspicuous site for the purpose and one to surely lie upon an axis of travel for the visiting nation. There is a bronze statue of Lincoln in Lincoln park, a mile east of the capitol, yet thousands who visit Washington never even hear of it.

WHEN DO I WANT YOU MOST, DEAR?

WHEN do I want you most, dear?
'Tis when soliloquy grows old
And the passion of love in my heart,
Will ne'er grow cold.

When do I want you most, dear?
When the sun is sinking o'er the hills
And the whippoorwill is whistling
Down by the rippling rills.

When do I want you most, dear?
'Tis when the evening shadows fall,
And its beam softly kisses
And their mates answer their call.

When do I want you most, dear?
When the moon shines so bright
And its beam softly kisses
The flowers asleep at night.

When do I want you most, dear?
When my heart throbs with pain
I try to enshrine your love
In my clouded, tortured brain.

When do I want you most, dear?
Just when I have trouble and care—
No one to impart the message to,
No one the trouble to share.

When do I want you most, dear?
It is very well to say
I need you most, dear,
When you are away.

Public Should Not Interfere With Railroad Management.

By THEODORE P. SHONTS.

THE PEOPLE SHOULD BE EDUCATED TO HOLD THEIR DIRECTORS, THE MEN WHOM THEY ELECT TO ENACT THEIR LAWS AND CONDUCT THEIR AFFAIRS, TO THE SAME RESPONSIBILITY THAT STOCKHOLDERS IN A PRIVATE CORPORATION DEMAND OF THE DIRECTORS WHOM THEY ELECT. IT IS NOT SUFFICIENT THAT PUBLIC OFFICIALS BE SIMPLY HONEST. THEY MUST DISPLAY WISDOM AND FORESIGHT THE SAME AS IS REQUIRED IN PRIVATE LIFE.

Honestly conceived laws to compel a service that will meet with the reasonable approval of the patrons of a road and prevent discriminations, stock watering and stock jobbery are right and proper, but to go far beyond that and impose UNREASONABLE BURDENS AND UNFAIR RESTRICTIONS looks to the defeat of the very purpose which it is sought to attain.

WE STILL HAVE HOPE THAT WE ARE GOING TO BE LET ALONE AND ALLOWED TO RUN OUR OWN BUSINESS. DESTROY THAT HOPE AND WE WILL HAVE IN THIS COUNTRY AN ERA OF MISERY THAT WILL SEND TO ETERNAL DAMNATION THOSE WHO ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR IT. THE SMOKELESS CHIMNEY, THE SILENT FORGE AND THE IDLE HAMMER WILL SPELL THE STORY.

GOVERNMENT INTERFERENCE, which has led the railroad heads to fear that the operation of the roads is to be taken out of their hands and turned over to commissions, is THE GREATEST MENACE TO THE COUNTRY'S GROWTH TODAY

Here's Where the Fun Comes In

You know why so many hoboes hit Rushville? Because it is in the gas belt, that's the reason. A woman living in North Sexton street will testify to this fact. This morning a grizzly looking old vet of the road struck her back door about seven o'clock and asked for something to eat.

"I'm willing to work if I can get it. Give me something to eat madam and I will cut some wood for you, or anything," said the fellow with a deep tone of pity in his voice.

"We don't burn wood," said the woman, sharply, "we burn gas here."

"Well, then maybe I can turn on your gas for you," replied the tramp.

BY THE WAYSIDE

Former Senator Thomas K. Mull of Manilla is out after a "spell." And he is as proud of the spell as a boy with his first pair of copper toes. You see it is this way. All of Walker township are taking off their hats to Mull. He is now conceded to be the "champeen" speller of that community. They had a spelling bee in Manilla one night last week and the last two on the floor were Mr. Mull and his mother, Mrs. E. J. Mull. She fell down on the word "ricochet" but her boy Tommy was there with the goods and the correct spelling, and was awarded the prize—a half peck of crab apples.

AMUSEMENTS

The Grand theater will have an exceptionally strong bill tonight in the two films "A Father's Will," a true love story and "Only a Dart," a rip-roaring comic. Miss Iva Brown will sing "If Those Lips Could Only Speak."

At the Vaudet tonight will be shown a drama film "The Hidden Treasure" and it is said to be a most interesting subject. "Under the Evening Star" is a new illustrated song that Miss Clara Gregg will sing. N. B. This is not the same Evening Star that was published in the Vaudet building for several years.

Indianapolis showmen have been playing upon the sympathies of patrons by exhibiting pictures purporting to show stirring scenes from the awful earthquake in Sicily. The truth is that had a ship started on the first day of the earthquake, it could no more than have arrived at New York harbor, and the transmission of pictures by wire is not yet perfected and the process is very expensive. The showmen have been exhibiting old pictures from scenes of the San Francisco earthquake.

HICKS SAYS IT IS TO BE VERY MILD

Missed it on the First Day of the Second Week of the Month of January.

WORST OF WINTER IS COMING

According to the prognostications of Prof. Ira Hicks, who has hit it pretty well on the first of January, the balance of the month is not to be the worst of the winter, although storms, snow and cold weather are promised. He hands out the following:

"A regular storm period from the 9th to 14th, is central on the 11th. Falling barometer and marked winter storms will pass over the country from west to east from about the 10th to 14th. Heavy sleet storms, turning to blizzards northward may be expected. A cold wave with cloudy, blustering weather, will follow the storms for several days.

"A reactionary storm period is central on the 16th to 17th. The mercury disturbance is still in force and will help to incite storms of sleet and snow on and touching these days. Cold rains will pass over regions to the southward. High barometer and frigid gales will bring fair, cold weather following the storms.

"A regular storm period begins with new moon on the 21st, central on the 23d, and extends to the 25th. Decided change to warmer will ap-

A STARTLING STATEMENT

New York Medical Authorities Claim
Dyspepsia Causes Consumption

The post mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that some cases of consumption are due to unchecked dyspepsia, especially when the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.

Dyspepsia wears out the body and brain, the weakened, irritable stomach is unable to digest food, the body does not receive the required nourishment, constipation ensues and the victim becomes thin, weak and haggard. As a result, the body becomes a fertile field for the germs of disease to lodge and flourish.

Therefore, the person who permits dyspepsia to progress unhindered is guilty of contributing toward the development of one of the most insidious and fatal disease known to mankind.

Dyspepsia is curable if properly treated. Lytle's drug store sells a remedy which they positively guarantee will cure indigestion or dyspepsia or they will pay for all the medicine used during the trial. This remedy is an absolutely new medical discovery and has been named Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. Certainly no offer could be more fair, and the offer of Lytle's Drug Store is proof positive that Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are a dependable and infallible remedy. Inasmuch as the medicine will cost you nothing if it does not benefit you we urge you who are suffering with indigestion or dyspepsia to try this remedy. A twenty-five cent box of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets contain enough medicine for fifteen days' treatment. Remember Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are only sold in Rushville by Lytle's Drug Store Third and Main streets.

Colds contracted at this season of the year are quickly relieved with Bees Laxative Cough Syrup. Its laxative quality rids the system of the cold. Pleasant to take. Best for children for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Sold at Lytle's Drug Store.

pear westward by the 21st, with falling barometer and cloudiness. The chances are that a "January thaw" may appear during this period, with winter thunder and lightning on and about the 25th, but cold will follow.

"A reactionary storm period has its center on the 28th and 29th, at which time the cold will relax, the barometer will fall and cloudiness with rain and snow will reappear. At this closing period for January, the indications are that disturbances will be comparatively moderate. The conditions existing at the preceding period, the 21st to 25th promise much more general and active storms in which case, the disturbed period as a rule are longer continued, and the reactionary period following are marked with less intensity."

NOK. I. O. LEAGUE THIS YEAR

Organization Lost Money Last Year.
Some Clubs Played Even.

Manager Larue of the local ball team, says the Connersville Examiner, will go to Cincinnati Tuesday to attend the annual meeting of the K. I. O. league. It is probable that there will be no K. I. O. league this year. During the first year of the organization the arrangement was very satisfactory, but last year it was not a success. Some of the clubs lost money and none of them did any better than to play even.

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS,
Author of "The Fighting Chance," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1907, BY ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.

"Yes, of course you knew it, or you suspected it. Your wife is in a sanitarium, as you have discovered. She is mentally ill—rational at times, violent at moments and for long periods quite docile, gentle, harmless, content to be talked to, read to, advised, persuaded. But during the last week a change of a certain nature has occurred which— which, I am told by competent physicians, not only renders her case beyond all hope of ultimate recovery, but threatens an earlier termination than was at first looked for. It is this: Your wife has become like a child again, occupied contentedly and quite happily with childish things. She has forgotten much. Her memory is quite gone. How much she does remember it is impossible to say."

His head fell. His brooding eyes were fixed on the rug at his feet. After awhile he looked up.

"I understand that you are contemplating proceedings against your wife. Are you?"

"Yes, I am," said Ruthven.

"On the grounds of her mental incapacity?"

"Yes."

"Then, as I understand it, the woman whom you persuaded to break every law, human and divine, for your sake you now propose to abandon. Is that it?"

Ruthven made no reply.

"You propose to publish her pitiable plight to the world by beginning proceedings. You intend to notify the public of your wife's infirmity by divorcing her?"

"Sane or insane," burst out Ruthven, "she was riding for a fall, and she's going to get it! What the devil are you talking about? I'm not accountable to you. I'll do what I please. I'll manage my own affairs."

"No," said Selwyn; "I'll manage this particular affair. And now I'll tell you how I'm going to do it. I have in my lodgings, or, rather, in the small hall bedroom which I now occupy, an army service revolver in fairly good condition. I shall give myself the Pushed him violently back into the card room.

Indigestion

Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, and Indigestion as real diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific Nerve sickness—nothing else.

It was this fact that first correctly led Dr. Shoop in the creation of that now very popular Stomach Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach nerves, alone brought that success and favor to Dr. Shoop and his Restorative. Without that original and highly vital principle, no such lasting accomplishments were ever to be had.

For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and sallow complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend commence any such action for divorce or separation against your wife. This is final."

Ruthven stared at him as though hypnotized.

"Don't mistake me," added Selwyn, a trifle wearily. "I am not compelling you to decency for the purpose of punishing you. Men never trouble themselves to punish vermin. They simply exterminate them or they retreat and avoid them. I merely mean that you shall never again bring publicity and shame upon your wife, even though now, mercifully enough, she has not the faintest idea that you are what a complacent law calls her husband."

A slow blaze lighted up his eyes, and he got up from his chair.

"You decadent little beast!" he said slowly. "Do you suppose that the dirty accident of your intrusion into an honest man's life could dissolve the divine compact of wedlock? Soil it—yes, besmirch it, render it superficially unclean, unfit, nauseous—yes, but neither you nor your vile code nor the imbecile law you invoked to legalize the situation really ever deprived me of my irrevocable status and responsibility. My wife, shamed or unshamed, humbled or unhumbled, true to her marriage vows or false to them, now legally the wife of another, has never ceased to be my wife."

He turned on his heel, paced the little room once or twice, then swung round again:

"Keep your filthy money, wrung from women and boys over card tables. Even if some blind, wormlike process of instinct stirred the shame in you and you ventured to offer belated aid to the woman who bears your name I forbid it; I do not permit you the privilege, except that she retains your name, and the moment you attempt to rob her of that I will destroy you; except for that you have no further relations with her—nothing to do or undo; no voice as to the disposal of what remains of her; no power, no will, no influence in her fate. I supplant you; I take my own again; I re-assume a responsibility temporarily taken from me. And now I think you understand!"

He gave him one level and deadly stare; then his pallid features relaxed. He slowly walked past Ruthven, grave, preoccupied, unlocked the door and passed out.

Chapter 23

SELWYN'S lodgings were not imposing in their furnishings or dimensions—a very small bedroom in the neighborhood of Sixth avenue and Washington square—but the heavy and increasing drain on his resources permitted nothing better now, and, what with settling Gerald's complications and providing two nurses and a private suit at Clifton for Allice Ruthven, he had been obliged to sell a number of securities, which reduced his income to a figure too absurd to worry over.

However, the government had at last signified its intention of testing his invention—chaosite—and there was that chance for better things in prospect. Also, in time, Gerald would probably be able to return something of the loans made.

Night after night, patiently perplexed, he retraced his errant pathway through life back to the source of doubt and pain, and once arrived there he remained, gazing with impartial eyes upon the ruin two young souls had wrought of their twin lives.

Dreadful his duty because he knew that he had never loved her, never could love her! Dreadful—doubly dreadful—for he now knew what love might be, and it was not what he had believed it when he executed the contract which must bind him while life endured.

That she had strayed—under man made laws held guiltless—could not shatter the tie. That he, blinded by hope, had hoped to remake a life already made and had dared to masquerade before his own soul as a man free to come, to go and free to love could not alter what had been done. Back, far back, of it all lay the deathless pact—for better or for worse.

And now, alone, abandoned, helplessly sick, utterly dependent upon the decency, the charity, the mercy of her legal paramour, the young girl who had once been his wife had not turned to him in vain.

Before the light of her shaken mind had gone out she had written him incoherently, practically in extremis, and, if he had hitherto doubted where his duty lay, from that moment he had no longer any doubt. And very quietly, hopelessly and irrevocably he had crushed out of his soul the hope and promise of the new life dawning for him above the dead ashes of the past.

It was not easy to do. He had not ended it yet. He did not know how. There were ties to be severed, friendships to be forgotten, memories to kill. There was also love—to be disposed of. And he did not know how.

First of all, paramount in his hopeless trouble, the desire to save others from pain persisted.

For that reason he had been careful that Gerald should not know where and how he was now obliged to live, lest the boy suspect and understand how much of Selwyn's little fortune it had taken to settle his debts of "honor" and free him from the sinister pressure of Neergard's importunities.

For that reason, too, he dreaded to have Austin know, because if the truth were exposed nothing in the world could prevent a violent and final separation between him and the foolish boy who now at last was beginning to show the first glimmering traces of character and common sense.

So he let it be understood that his address was his club for the present, for he also desired no scene with Boots, whom he knew would attempt to force him to live with him in his cherished and brand new house. And even if he cared to accept and permit Boots to place him under such obligations it would only hamper him in his duties, because now what remained of his income must be devoted to Allice.

Even before her case had taken the more hopeless turn he had understood that she could not remain at Clifton. Such cases were neither desired nor treated there. He understood that. And so he had taken for her a pretty little villa at Edgewater, with two trained nurses to care for her and a phaeton for her to drive.

And now she was installed there, properly cared for, surrounded by every comfort, contented, except in the black and violent crises which still swept her in recurrent storms—indeed, tranquil and happy, for through the troubled glimmer of departing reason her eyes were already opening in the calm, unearthly dawn of second childhood. Outside of that dead garden of the past, peopled by laughing phantoms of her youth, but one single extraneous memory persisted—the memory of Selwyn—curiously twisted and readjusted to the comprehension of a child's mind, vague at times, at times wistfully elusive and incoherent, but it remained always a memory and always a happy one.

He was obliged to go to her every three or four days. In the interim she seemed quite satisfied and happy, busy with the simple and pretty things she now cared for, but toward the third day of his absence she usually became restless, asking for him and why he did not come. And then they telegraphed him, and he left everything and went, white faced, stern of lip, to endure the most dreadful ordeal a man may face—to force the smile to his lips and gayety into the shrinking soul of him and sit with her in the pretty, sunny room, listening to her prattle, answering the childish questions, watching her, seated in her rocking chair, singing contentedly to herself and playing with her dolls and ribbons—dressing them, undressing, mending, arranging—until the heart within him quivered under the misery of it and he turned to the curtained window, hands clinching convulsively and teeth set to force back the strangling agony in his throat. And the dreadful part of it all was that her appearance had remained unchanged—unless, perhaps, she was prettier, lovelier of face and figure than ever before.

Thinking of these things now, he leaned heavily forward, elbows on the little table. And suddenly unbidden before his haunted eyes rose the white portico of Silverdale, and the green-sward glimmered, drenched in sunshine, and a slim figure in white stood there, arms bare, tennis bat swinging in one tanned little hand.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear if the Advice of This Rushville Citizen is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains:

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault; Backache is really kidney ache;

That's why Doan's Kidney Pills cure it.

Many a Rushville woman know this.

Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. William Merrill, 332 West Fourth street, Rushville, Ind., says:

"Doan's Kidney pills did me a great deal of good. I had been suffering for a considerable time from a weakness in my back. I also felt dull and languid, finding it hard to attend to my household duties. My husband recently went to F. B. Johnson & Co's drug store and got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills. Since taking them I have been much better in every way. I did not take them according to directions, yet the relief I received was gratifying. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to other sufferers of kidney complaint."

LABOR LEADERS GET TOGETHER

Federation Council Takes Up Sentence of Court.

IMPORTANT MEETING TODAY

Executive Council of the Federation of Labor Assemblies at Washington to Consider the Matter of the Sentencing of Gompers, Mitchell and Morrison—Union Men Are Unanimous in Declaring the Court's Judgment Unconstitutional and in Contravention of the Rights of Free Speech.

Washington, Jan. 11.—One of the most important assemblages in the history of union labor in the United States is the meeting today of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor, called to consider the sentencing of three leaders of union men to jail for contempt of court.

Just what action the federation will take in the cases of Samuel Gompers, its president; Frank Morrison, its secretary, and John Mitchell, its second vice president, is not definitely known. It is safe to say, however, that a vigorous protest will be made against the imposition of the jail sentence pronounced by Judge Wright of the District of Columbia supreme court.

Criticise Sentences.

All the labor leaders gathered here for the meeting repeated their former declarations that the sentences were unjust and in contravention of the rights of free speech guaranteed by the federal constitution. None of them would forecast in advance the action of the council, but they were unanimous in the opinion that the language to be used would be forcible.

In connection with the meeting of the federation council there will be held at the department of commerce and labor the conference of important labor leaders, prominent publicists and directors of big industries to consider several questions of importance throughout the country, called by Secretary Straus.

Some of the subjects which will probably be considered are:

The prevention of the dissemination of misleading information in European countries concerning the demands for labor in the United States.

The making more effective the division of information in the work of locating immigrants who come to this country.

The problem of the unemployed during periods of financial depression such as the country experienced in the last year.

OHIO'S NEW GOVERNOR

Judson Harmon Takes Oath of High Office Today.

Columbus, Jan. 11.—With the inauguration here at noon today as governor of Ohio of Judson Harmon, Democrat, who will preside over a state government that will be Republican in its legislative end, lively times are predicted in the politics of the Buckeye state. The Democrats of the senate, who are outnumbered by the Republicans by only six members, have already served notice on their opponents that they expect to receive more consideration than is usually accorded to a legislative minority.

Tomorrow the two houses in joint session will elect Theodore E. Burton of Cleveland to the senate seat which will be vacated by Joseph B. Foraker on March 4. Mr. Burton will serve out his congressional term, ending March 4. As he was re-elected last fall, a special election will be called in Cleveland soon after March 4 to determine his successor in the house of representatives.

Both Factions in Earnest.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 11.—Over four carloads of anti-prohibition petition to the legislature protesting against the proposed state-wide prohibition law have gone to Nashville. Nearly two carloads of temperance people also left on the same train and will present their side of the question to the committee on liquor traffic in Nashville tonight.

INDIANA HAS A NEW GOVERNOR

Thomas R. Marshall Was Duly Inaugurated Today.

BRILLIANT AFFAIR OF STATE

Beneath the Gilded Dome of the Capitol at Indianapolis the New Governor Took the Oath of His High Office. Then Addressed the People and the Legislature Upon Questions of State—Large Audience Gathered to Witness the Ceremonies and Greet New Chief Executive.

Indianapolis, Jan. 11.—Thomas R. Marshall was today at noon inaugurated as governor of Indiana, the twenty-sixth in the honorable line of this state's chief executives.

The inaugural ceremonies were conducted with traditional pomp and circumstance in the rotunda of the capitol, which was taxed to its capacity by the crowd which gathered to acclaim the new governor. With true democratic simplicity there were no reservations of seats save only for the members of the legislature and the necessary functionaries of the occasion. Just previous to the governor's inauguration, Lieutenant Governor-elect Frank J. Hall of Rushville was introduced to the senate by Lieutenant Governor Miller and was formally sworn in as lieutenant governor, accepting from his predecessor the gavel of the president of the senate.

The Inauguration.

Shortly before noon Governor Hanly called with a carriage at the home of Mr. Marshall in North Pennsylvania street and escorted the governor-elect to the capitol, where the members of the general assembly had already taken their seats in front of the stand, a military band having enlivened the scene pending the arrival of the central figures.

Following an invocation by the Rev. George L. Mackintosh, D. D., president of Wabash college, Judge Frank S.

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR HALL.

Roby of the appellate court administered the formal oath of office to Governor-elect Marshall. Retiring Governor Hanly then introduced the new governor to the audience and Governor Marshall entered upon the delivery of his inaugural address, which claimed the closest attention of his large audience, and was frequently and enthusiastically applauded. Following his inaugural address, Governor Marshall turned his attention to the members of the legislature, delivering to that body his first message.

The Governor's Message.

The governor recommended in his message the employment of an expert to investigate all state offices with a view to promoting economy by the lopping off of unnecessary officeholders and the establishment of fixed and definite salaries. A uniform system of bookkeeping in all offices is recommended, together with an official examination of public accounts. The governor advocates the repeal of the metropolitan police law and the abolition of county councils and township advisory boards. An amendment to the election laws providing general primaries and a popular vote for United States senator is recommended. The governor urges the enactment of a new and less vague railroad commission law, a provision for civil service examinations; insists upon a business administration of the department of inspection, revision of the insurance laws and amendment of the cities and towns act to do away with useless offices. The curtailing of the numerous state "boards" and "commissions" is urged and an investigation of charges attending the construction of the new school for the deaf and the southeastern hospital for the insane demanded. The legislature is asked to be sure the office of state geologist is worth its cost before continuing the office. The sale of the state forest reserve and the employment of a lecturing forester is recommended. Diligent care of the state educational institutions is recommended, but the legislature is warned against lavish expenditures in that behalf.

When this program was completed Governor and Mrs. Marshall held a public reception in the governor's office, where they met several hundred people.

The inaugural ceremonies will be concluded tonight by a big reception and ball to be given to Governor and Mrs. Marshall by the citizens of Indianapolis at the Propylaeum. The legislature is not expected to get down to business until after Wednesday, when the senatorial caucus will be held.

SPARK FROM TROLLEY CAUSED A DISASTER

Twenty-Five Lives Lost In Explosion at Zeigler.

Duquoin, Ill., Jan. 11.—A disastrous gas explosion in which twenty-five men lost their lives occurred at an early hour Sunday morning in Joseph Leiter's famous colliery at Zeigler. A spark from a trolley pole of an electric motor coming in contact with a pocket of gas is assigned as the cause of the explosion.

The Americans killed by the explosion included Willis Warner and Albert Kerr, foremen; James Patterson, Joe Richardson, Fred Morgan, J. O. Erans, Gilbert Jones, Joe Tate, James Philipps, John Cassay, Aaron Jereoll, Thomas Hubbard, Coe Puckett and Charles Smother.

Mr. Leiter personally conducted the first relief party that descended into the mine to recover the bodies. The lone survivor of the explosion was an Italian youth who escaped unharmed.

An expert who had been experimenting with the gas in the mines at Zeigler left Wednesday, confident that he had placed the mine in safe condition to be operated.

The men entombed were engaged in clearing away the debris caused by the recent fires in the mine, and it was expected that operations would be resumed this week after two months' suspension.

TILLMAN MAKES ANSWER

South Carolina Senator Seeks Justification of Acts.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Senator Tillman's speech today making reply to the charges brought against him in the president's latest special message is not expected to go far in the direction of clearing the official atmosphere of the capital. On the contrary the speech of the South Carolina senator is more likely to widen still further the breach between the chief executive and the legislative branch of the government.

Senator Tillman attempted to show that his official attempt to procure the cancellation of the Coos Bay (Oregon) wagon road grant was entirely apart from his private efforts to procure for himself and family some of the lands contained in the grant. He did not speak at great length.

W.B. Reduso CORSETS

The Perfect Corset for Large Women

It places over-developed women on the same basis as their slender sisters. It tapers off the bust, flattens the abdomen, and absolutely reduces the hips from 1 to 5 inches. Not a harness—not a cumbersome affair, no torturing straps, but the most scientific example of corsetry, boned in such a manner as to give the wearer absolute freedom of movement.

New W. B. Reduso No. 770 for large tall women. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides, also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

New W. B. Reduso No. 772 for large short women. Is the same as No. 770, except that the bust is somewhat lower all around. Made of white coutil. Hose supporters front and sides. Also made in batiste. Sizes 20 to 36. Price $3.00.

Ask any dealer anywhere to show you the New W. B. "Hip-subduing" models from $1.00 to $3.00 per pair.
